

Cambridge English

Support for Teachers

Celebration of English

LMS.at - Lernen Mit System in cooperation with British Council and Cambridge ESOL

The United Kingdom is a world leader in English language teaching. British Council and Cambridge English (a joint initiative of Cambridge University Press and Cambridge ESOL) are examples of the provision of excellent support for English language teachers and learners worldwide. This event celebrates 100 years of Cambridge English (ESOL) exams, since the first administration in 1913 of their first, the Certificate of Proficiency in English, to the present. It is also an opportunity to celebrate the ELTons. The British Council ELTons recognise and celebrate innovation in the field of English language teaching. We are extremely proud that Jamie Keddie, a presenter at this event is a previous ELTon winner. Finally this event celebrates you, the teacher - because great, committed teachers are inspiring. We hope that this event inspires you!

Date: Wednesday, 13 March 2013

Venue: BHAK/BHAS Oberpullendorf, Gymnasiumstraße 19, 7350 Oberpullendorf

Registration: Please register at https://www.ph-online.ac.at/ph-bgld/lv.detail?cperson_nr=50379&clvnr=120917 by 17 February 2013

Programme

13:30-14:00

Arrival and Registration

14:00-14:45

Welcome

Helene Schütz-Fatalin, Direktorin der BHAK/BHAS Oberpullendorf

LSR für Burgenland

Martin Gilbert, Director British Council Austria

Eva Gröstenberger, LMS.at – Lernen Mit System

14:45-15:45

Withholding the image

Speaker: Jamie Keddie

"One of the remarkable things about human beings is our ability to implant images in each other's heads using words alone."

In a visual materials world, computer screens, projectors and mobile phones have an increasingly important role in the classroom. Many of us will have instant access to viral videos, online advertisements, Facebook photographs, Google Earth, internet art and more. In this practical talk, I would like to share some ideas and techniques which combine such visual materials with a more traditional classroom resource - the mind's eye.

15:45-16:15

Coffee break

16:15-16:45

Withholding the image - ctd
Speaker: Jamie Keddie

16:45-17:00

Coffee break

17:00-17:45

100 years of Cambridge English examinations and still going strong – get an update on the latest developments!
Speaker: Kerstin Großmann

Cambridge English exams are designed to impact positively on the learning and teaching of English in a wide range of contexts. University of Cambridge ESOL is therefore constantly striving to ensure that it meets the increasingly diverse and fast moving needs of our teachers and learners. This presentation will give a short overview over Cambridge ESOL's range of examinations and tests, the comprehensive online resources for teachers and learners and the latest developments in terms of assessment.

17:45

Networking Reception

Speakers

Jamie Keddie is a European-based teacher, teacher trainer, writer and presenter. He is the founder of LessonStream.org, the site that was formerly known as TEFLclips, winner of a British Council ELTons award. His publications include Images in the Resource Books for Teachers series published by Oxford University Press and Videotelling to be published in Spring 2013. Jamie is an associate trainer at Norwich Institute for Language Education in the UK.
<http://jamiekeddie.com/>, <http://englishagenda.britishcouncil.org/eltontons>

Kerstin Grossmann is Regional Manager for Cambridge ESOL for Austria, Germany, Scandinavia and Switzerland. Based in Berlin with her team, Kerstin is responsible for supporting the Cambridge English exams in the region. This includes a comprehensive programme of teacher support. She works together with the network of test centres and keeps a close relationship with teachers and other stakeholders.

We are looking forward to your participation!

